Introduction

Triathlon made its Olympic debut at the Sydney 2000 Olympic Games and has since become one of the world’s fastest-growing sports. After Beijing 2008, in the midst of this success, World Triathlon, the sport’s worldwide governing body, unveiled an exciting new global series for the world’s top athletes, known today as the World Triathlon Championship Series.

The World Triathlon Championship Series now comprises the original Standard-Distance (1.5km swim, 40km bike and 10km run) and Sprint-Distance (750m swim, 20km bike and 5km run) events as well as exciting new formats that include two-day Semi-Final/Final super-sprints and Mixed Relay Series events.

Each year, the planet’s top elite triathletes compete in up to ten World Triathlon Championship Series races, including the World Triathlon Championship Finals, with the goal to accumulate the most points and become World Triathlon Champion. Since its launch, the profile of the World Triathlon Championship Series has grown rapidly, firmly establishing itself as the pinnacle of short distance triathlon across the globe. The Mixed Relay format was added to the programme of the Tokyo 2020 Olympic Games, providing another huge spotlight on the sport.

The World Triathlon Championship Finals serves as the last event of the Series, and offers the highest number of points for the Elite athletes’ World Championship rankings. The event also includes the U23, Para Triathlon and Age-Group (standard, super sprint, and standard aquabike) World Championships.

The World Triathlon Championship Series continues to attract the world’s finest triathletes and produce the most exciting head-to-head racing to be found anywhere in the sport. In addition to being part of the official World Championships, World Triathlon Championship Series races are key qualifying events for the Olympic Games.

As such, the series brings with it significant media coverage and exposure, including live broadcast distribution at every event through global partners as well as on World Triathlon’s own OTT platform, Triathlonlive.tv. World Triathlon’s digital media platforms further extend the reach of every event and every Host City to sports fans in all corners of the world.
Host City Opportunities

With the endorsement of their respective National Federation, cities can bid to host a World Triathlon Championship Series, the crown jewel of World Triathlon’s annual calendar. Previous hosts have included London, Budapest, Beijing, Auckland, Chicago, Gold Coast, Cozumel and Lausanne.

The occasion of a World Triathlon Championship Series brings together athletes of all levels, from future stars and Olympic medallists to every aspect of the mass participation market. Triathlon is one of the fastest growing mass participation sports in the world and Host Cities can benefit from major sports tourism activation.

As such, hosting the World Triathlon Championship Series creates an instant economic impact by bringing in a significant number of international tourists to the city, including competitors, support teams, officials, sports fans, family and friends. With the addition of local races (subject to scheduling), the number of competitors can exceed 10,000 people.

World Triathlon Championship Series Host Cities can expect to attract an audience of millions from all around the world. This includes international TV distribution of the live coverage, mainstream TV and print media distribution, full coverage on Triathlonlive.tv and extensive social media presence.

Triathlon is a unique sport and offers Host Cities the opportunity to showcase visual postcards of its landmarks using the city landscape as opposed to an indoor stadium.

Host Cities have a unique opportunity to host a World Triathlon event on a multi-year basis. This long-term approach brings major benefits, including greater potential to attract sponsors, increased athlete and spectator participation, improved organisational structure, greater media profile, a more engaged community and the opportunity for creating local and national health initiatives.

National Triathlon development programmes and creating a real sporting legacy can also result from hosting a successful international World Triathlon event.

With Mixed Relay making its Olympic debut at Tokyo 2020, cities also have the opportunity to host a stop on the exciting Mixed Relay World Series. The dynamic, fast-paced format has brought new audiences to the sport, and these events will play a significant role in the Elite athletes’ qualification for the Olympic Games and Mixed Relay World Championships.
World Triathlon dedicates considerable resources in making the World Triathlon Championship Series an international success

- Investing over US$2.5 million in Elite athlete prize money and financial incentives;
- Employing full-time staff & world-class agencies who deliver international broadcast services and media services;
- Covering US$16,000 of TV graphics (50% of the cost);
- Hiring award-winning sports photographers for each event;
- Ensuring worldwide social media coverage across all World Triathlon channels including Facebook, Instagram, Twitter and YouTube;
- Investing in an event report including TV, livestream, social media and global partner data to evaluate the commercial success of the event and provide insight for improvement;
- Delivering a World Triathlon Championship Series website, a global streaming platform and additionally providing each Host City with a dedicated website design and content:
  - triathlon.org
  - triathlonlive.tv
- Providing essential technical and operational support, guidelines and advice;
- Managing the Elite athletes and their event entries and rankings;
- Providing event design and branding guidelines, sponsorship framework and commercial advice.
- Occasionally, World Triathlon will invest in media travel and accommodation assistance and bursaries to bring international media to the event.
- Provide a centralised and customized entry system for all mass participation events, what the LOC’s will be obliged to use.
Television

World Triathlon Championship Series events are not constrained to a stadium, so Host Cities are able to create unique venues. The backdrop of the event are the landmarks of the city, thus allowing the global audience to witness an iconic sport taking place right within the city environment.

World Triathlon’s broadcast partner, Infront Sports and Media, is one of the world’s market leaders in sports broadcasting services, specialised in the promotion and marketing of televised mass-participation endurance sports for Elite and Age-Group participants. World Triathlon Broadcast Partners, along with Infront, will support the production of live TV coverage and provide international TV distribution through their worldwide sales network.

The Elite men’s, Elite women’s and Mixed Relay races will all feature an international live broadcast.

Custom news feeds and footage will be made available, on request, prior to the race. Immediately following the World Triathlon Championship Series competitions, a 3-minute news feed is distributed to news agencies and made available for international broadcasters.

Currently, 22 television and broadcast partners cover the World Triathlon Championship Series, some of them covering extensive territories: L’Equipe covers France and the French territories; TV Arena Sport covers Slovenia, Croatia, Serbia, Montenegro, Bosnia, North Macedonia and Kosovo; NENT Scandanivian countries; DirectTV covers South, Central America and Caribbean region.

Current buyers of World Triathlon Championship Series rights are BBC (United Kingdom), NBC (US), NHK (Japan), TVE (Spain), Fox Australia, ARD (Germany) and SporTV (Turkey), among others.

This figure is growing consistently as new long-term partners are added to the distribution. Global News Access deals with major news agencies such as EBU, Reuters and SNTV, and ensures that the Series can be seen in nearly every country across the globe.

World Triathlon also distributes events on its OTT platform Triathlonlive.tv to ensure fans around the world can watch all the action live or on-demand.

The event will retain the domestic broadcast distribution rights and will also have the right to distribute the live broadcasts and highlight shows for all other World Triathlon Championship Series events within its national territory. In order to ensure coverage and exposure for all events, World Triathlon requires confirmation of broadcast from Free to Air broadcasters by 31 October of the year prior. Unused rights will return to World Triathlon to ensure worldwide coverage for all events, partners and stakeholders. World Triathlon and its appointed distribution partner will retain the international TV distribution rights for the event.

The Host City/LOC will retain revenues received from public and corporate funding, mass participation entry fees via the World Triathlon entry system, hotel commissions, catering and sales of national TV distribution and sponsorship rights agreed with World Triathlon.

The Host City can also use the opportunity to secure bids for World Triathlon Championship Series events for successive years.

The world we are living in is changing rapidly. Industrial and economic progress has come at a great cost to the planet, but it is not too late to make decisions and take actions that can halt the damage done to our environment and stem the tide of global warming.

It is in the very nature of our duty as the governing body of one of the world’s fastest growing sports that World Triathlon reaches all corners of the globe. We host large-scale events in major cities attracting thousands of participants and even more spectators. We now know the impact that daily occurrences such as global travel and the use of plastics has on our planet, and we want to become a leader not just among fellow International Sports Federations, but global organisations of all kinds, in taking action and encouraging our stakeholders to do likewise.

As part of this approach, World Triathlon has introduced the World Triathlon Sustainability Guide for Event Organizers. This document is an invitation to our event organiser partners to engage in the journey of social, economic and environmental sustainability within the delivery of their event.

Some are already engaged, either on a voluntary basis or due to local legislation, and others have not yet started. Regardless of your location on this journey, this document offers a non-exhaustive list of actions to help keep you moving into the direction of sustainability.

It will also serve as a framework for a World Triathlon Sustainability certification system, which will recognize the commitments of LOCs to minimize their footprint.
