Facilitating national-level values based anti-doping education initiatives

If you are an Athlete, a national anti-doping education officer, or a person who requires any educational materials in your respective language please contact your NADO or RADO (national or regional anti-doping organization) directly. They will assist you by providing educational materials in your language.

- If you do not have their contact information, you can contact iNADO: the Institute of National Anti-Doping Organizations who should be able to provide answers and the proper contact information: info@inado.org
- You can also contact your regional WADA office by sending an email to info@wada-ama.org. There are WADA offices in Europe, Asia/Oceania, Africa and Latin America. WADA should also be able to provide you with answers and the proper contact information.
- If you still are unable to find your NADO or RADO contact information, contact Leslie Buchanan at leslie.buchanan@triathlon.org and ITU will assist you.
