Viña del Mar, It is located on the central coast of the V Region of Chile, 120 km. from the capital, Santiago.

Given its geography and residential character, it has historically maintained the status of a spa city, thanks to the proper use of its landscape potential and the execution of various projects that have consolidated Viña del Mar, over time, as the "Tourist Capital of Chile". , a name that transcends our borders.

Viña del Mar is also known as the Garden City for being originally surrounded by large green areas and currently preserving beautiful and extensive gardens in its urban area, with varied native and exotic floral and tree species. It is remarkable the fact that in the Viñamarina community there is a true culture to preserve and generate this type of area.

The beauty offered by its urban aesthetics is harmoniously combined with its 13 beaches, a diversified offer of culture, gastronomy and entertainment, thanks to the fact that it has important and outstanding venues, such as the Municipal Games Casino.

The short distance that separates it from Santiago (90 minutes approx. by vehicle), facilitates the concurrence of tourists and is one of the favorite destinations of national and foreign tourism.

One of its main attractions is its extensive coastline, in which 8 kilometers of beaches, promenades and rocks alternate.

Also noteworthy are its numerous palaces, former mansions of wealthy families that have now been transformed into elegant museums.

This city is also characterized by an intense cultural and artistic life.

Among its activities, the Viña del Mar International Song Festival stands out, which takes place every year in February.

Botanic Garden

The National Botanical Garden is located between the El Salto sector and the Estero Marga Marga, the limit point between Quilpué and Viña del Mar, created in 1951, a meeting place with nature that has led over time to the conservation of species and plants. of the current biotopes in Chile, being a place for the formation of environmental culture, focused on all those who feel part of this space.

Flower clock

At the foot of Cerro Castillo, a mixture of nature and precision of Swiss mechanics.

In the year 1962, Viña del Mar was one of the venues chosen for the World Soccer Championship, a large number of tourists came to the Garden City, this led the people in charge of the municipality of Viña del Mar to create a characteristic element so that better represent the city, with this objective a clock made entirely of flowers was created, with a mechanism specially brought from Nauchatel, Switzerland.

Quinta Vergara Park

Extensive and beautiful park, which is transformed into a romantic and attractive walk, full of charm and beauty. Doña Dolores Pérez de Álvarez (belonging to the founding family of the city), was a great fan of plants and began the formation of the garden, her son and only one to navigate the Far East and Australia and from his travels brought exotic plants that were formed the Fifth.

Presidential palace

Declared National Historical Monument,

This Palace, rest residence of the Presidents of Chile, was built thanks to the impulse of Mrs. Graciela Letelier Velasco, wife of President Carlos Ibáñez del Campo, who in 1929 requested the land belonging to Fort Callao to the treasury for these purposes.

Wulf Castle

Patrimony of Viña del Mar and National Historical Monument granted by the Ministry of Education.

Don Gustavo Adolfo Wülff Mowle, an important businessman and philanthropist from Valparaíso, decided to build an imposing residence in a very particular place: the rocky area located between the mouth of the Estero Marga-Marga and the Caleta.

Beaches

Playa de Viña del Mar

With a central court and four fields for the practice of volleyball, soccer and rugby, the Sports Beach of Viña del Mar, located in the Las Salinas sector, has become one of the benchmarks of activity for the Region in the last years.

Reñaca Beach

Reñaca is the most requested place on the coast. Its beach comprises 1.3 km. bordered by a beautiful coastline. Behind Av. Borgoño is one of the most visited and recognized beaches by tourists and Viñamarinos, in sight of a large seagull designed by hundreds of flowers, Playa Reñaca welcomes in its great magnitude young people who prefer it for its several kilometers long, separated into five sectors for rest and fun.

Cochoa Beach

It is small and cozy with dark sand and low tide, in its surroundings there is a wide variety of restaurants that offer sea products. It is surrounded by a large number of attractive restaurants, a favorite place mostly for tourists, highlighting the beautiful view that these places have..

How to get?

Viña del Mar It is an easily accessible city, allowing a relaxed arrival at any meeting place. Viña del Mar is about 60 minutes from Merino Benítez Airport, Chile's main international airport, and an hour and a half from Santiago, the country's capital. Both places are connected to Viña del Mar through an expeditious and modern highway.

By plane

Once the plane has arrived, the alternatives to go to Viña del Mar are:

Public Buses: At the airport there are two bus lines, which for an approximate value of US$ 3, take passengers to the entrance of Santiago, a city about 20 minutes away, every 15 minutes. At the first Metro (underground train) station, called Pajaritos, you must transfer and take a bus to Viña del Mar. The approximate cost of this second trip by bus, which has a frequency of 20 minutes, is US$7. Travel time 80 minutes.

Transfer: The transfer service from the Airport to Viña del Mar has an approximate cost of US$ 36 per person, for a minimum of two passengers.

By car

The main entrance to Chile through its central area is from Argentina, through the Paso Los Libertadores that joins the provinces of Mendoza, in Argentina, and Los Andes, in Chile. Route 60 is the highway that connects El Paso Los Libertadores with Viña del Mar, passing through the cities of: Los Andes; San Felipe; Llay Llay; The Calera; Quillota and Concon..
